

Art: Installation

Canyon Candy

Share     9 people like this.

Canyon Candy Photo: Mike Anderson, 2011

When

Dec 20, 2011 – Mar 1
Tuesdays–Fridays (noon–5pm)

Where

The Clocktower
108 Leonard St

“Winds howl, crickets chirp, and coyotes yodel in Canyon Candy, a site-specific installation that expands a wild western-themed 16-minute music video from Luaka Bop recording artists Javelin and filmmaker Mike Anderson, into a fully immersive experience. Part of the Clocktower Gallery's music video series (which launched with a Michael Stipe curated program in Spring 2011), the exhibit invites visitors to wander through an intricately designed film-like set while listening to a soundtrack created by Javelin, who are known for turning field-recorded and found sound samples into memorable melodies. From termite hills and cactus fields to campsites, this awe-inspiring show is worth the trip. Check Clocktower's site for special events associated with the exhibit.”

 Mindy Bond, Flavorpill

Note: The Babies are scheduled to perform on 1/31. RSVP required.